R.A.F. Makes Destructive Attack on Bremen

Great German Port Heavily Bombed For Third Straight Night

"Sea of Flames" Left In Big Manufacturing Centre Following Raid—Target Hit Repeatedly By Bombs

By ROBERT DOWSON
LONDON, Jan. 4.—(AP)—The great German port and manufacturing centre of Bremen was left a "sea of flames" by Royal Air Force bombers which attacked it last night for the third successive night, the air ministry said today.

Last night's raid on Bremen was regarded as the R.A.F.'s greatest and most destructive of the war.

Visibility was good, the ministry said, adding:

"The target was hit repeatedly by large and medium calibre bombs and many incendiary bombs were dropped. Eighteen red fire were observed, of which ten were large and there were so many white fires that their number could not be counted.

One plane was missing.

Planes arriving later found the target area a sea of flame.

"One of our planes drove off and damaged a two-engine enemy plane which sought to interfere.

Other targets in enemy and enemy-occupied territory also were attacked.

Twenty thousand incendiary bombs and many high explosive bombs were dropped in the first attack Wednesday night, but according to information available in London today, the third raid, which probably put Wednesday's in the shade."

The Wednesday night raid had been regarded on the basis of reconnaissance reports as the great raid made by the Royal Air Force since the start of the war.

It was understood that in last night's raid, the British, their planes were without battle experience. The long air strike of Bremen has given British aviators expert knowledge of air tactics which is partly responsible for their success in north Africa.

The fall of Bremen has become treacherous unless Marshal Graziani succeed in pressing a new offensive eastward from his present stronghold at Tobruk, 75 miles west. He has shown no sign of engaging in any such action and

Wabamun Mission Play Scores New Triumphs

Witnessed by a total audience of over 600 persons, the third annual presentation of the Wabamun Tabernacle by the Wabamun Mission Nativity Players of the Wabamun Anglican Mission was made during the Christmas holidays in Wabamun, Evansburg and Edmonton.

Youth Parade

By THE EDITOR

A movement is underway by student officials at Victoria High School similar to the plan we suggested at the outset of the 1939 Fall term. According to an editorial in the V. Argo, certain students in the city are very much in favor of a central student union composed of representatives of every high school in Edmonton, for the purpose of doing away with duplication of social events, etc., and for a better plan of co-operation between the schools.

Every student seems truly set on meetings of the old Westminster Students' Union. Even have been in favor of the same movement.

It seems to me that such a council has been a vital necessity for a number of years. It has been tried in other cities and from comments I've received from young people associated with such unions the plan has worked out very satisfactorily for every city.

Almost any student, when asked, will extol for hours the virtue of the students' union, and it is selected to carry on its social affairs, direct matters of finance and arrange for publications is almost unthinkably.

Why not then, a council of high schools that would look after the matter as one unit. The council could arrange to meet in a certain meeting-place every month, or every two weeks as the case would be, under the guidance of either a teacher or a picked member of the school board involved. Naturally the council would be large, taking in a good number of students, but this too is an advantage rather than a disadvantage. Training in democracy would be well worth the time spent in council matters.

And then with such a council, the arranging of such things as inter-school "ins" and yearbooks would be a good deal to think over and if students' work working on the matter, there's no telling the good that may come out of the work.

Among those present at the opening of the Twentieth room, new social centre for ex-Scout soldiers and sailors at Halifax, N.S., was a former Scout leader of the Royal Navy from Halifax, England.

Belonging out with the show, made up of over 50 young people from the mission, were: Henry Atack, organist for the Wabamun performance; Mrs. John Swaffield, organist for the Edmonton performance; and the Pevanburg choir under Mrs. Gladys Conner at the performance staged at the last town Harold Anderson of Magnolia, was organist and assisted with the making of light effects under the direction of Gordon Shuler, Wabamun electrician. Chat of the play was drawn from Seth Beaulieu, Rexborough, Wabamun and Difford.

Outlining the purpose and nature of the Nativity Tabernacle, Rev. Colin Cuttill, priest in charge of the Wabamun mission for the past four years, said that since the eleventh century the Anglican church has practiced the art of visual education, believing that the faith of the church could be taught as well through the eye as through the ear. During the present century he said, there has been a remarkable revival of the popularity of such plays.

STORY OF INCARNATION

In this year's production, the story of the incarnation from the appearance of Gabriel to the adoration of the Manger at Nazareth was portrayed in scenes, using all modern stage devices possible and climaxed by grand procession with an amplified recording of the bells of St. Margaret's church, Westminster, providing an inspiring musical background. All costumes used were made in Wabamun from original designs by Eliza Anna Wood, who studied eastern fashions for many years in Palestine.

Plans are already being made for an even more ambitious production, namely "The Passion Play of Oberammergau," in modified form, involving a larger and more mature cast. The play would be staged during the winter months, and would be taken to some distant point besides Wabamun, where there is a suitable parish hall available.

LUTHERAN CHURCH WITNESSES PLAY BY C.G.I.T. CLUB

Staged by the Canadian Girls in Training of the congregation, the Nativity Tabernacle play was witnessed by mothers and friends of the C.G.I.T. movement, the evening was brought in a close with the dramatic performance by members of the club.

Cost of characters included: Edith Johnson, Elia Dix, Frieda Kuhn, Evelyn Sammons, Lora Herlihy, Elsie Kuhnshy, Lorraine Krell, Marion Kulak.

Presiding as "master of ceremonies" was Mrs. May Bedine.

HIGH DECORATION BESTOWED ON LATE LORD TWEEDSMUIR

The Silver Wolf, highest honorary decoration of the Boy Scouts Association, was awarded posthumously to His late Excellency Lord Tweedsmuir, former Chief Scout for Canada, at a meeting of the executive committee of the Canadian General Council of the Scout Association at Ottawa. The citation was read by Hon. Dominion Secretary Gerald H. Brown and the decoration was received on behalf of Lady Tweedsmuir by His Excellency the Governor-General, the Earl of Athlone, Chief Scout for Canada.

"Upon his assumption of the office of Governor-General of Canada in 1935, Lord Tweedsmuir also accepted the office of Chief Scout for Canada and was formally invested. During his tenure of office Lord Tweedsmuir, proved by initiation and accomplishment that he was a Scout in fact and deed. He was not regarded the role of Chief Scout of the Dominion as nominal, but displayed a keen interest in the status and progress of the movement. His knowledge of what Scouting is and what Scouts are supposed to do made his many visits and inspections of real and lasting value. He Almost Unbelievable—Holidays Gone Again!

By KAY BASHAM

Imagine that: Like the snap of a finger the Christmas holidays have faded into a dim past and here we are back at school, ready as usual, with a usual, and struggling with math problems.

Ahead of us, like a vast pasture, stretches 1941. Behind us is the first term of the school year, now nothing but a pleasant memory. For the students of the South Side Composite unit, 1941 will be

"Lord Tweedsmuir availed himself of every reasonable opportunity for speaking a good word on behalf of the movement in this country. He kept urging that efforts be made to relieve the 10,000 membership project launched by his predecessor. Upon several occasions he commended Scouting as a force making for the unification of Canada and contributing to the growth of the national spirit. His remark that 'Scouting is simply a boy's dream come true' went echoing through full of social and sports activities, according to the plans of the various managers. Singing parties, life dances, informal "get-togethers" and in the spring the annual "home" all teamed up with the never-to-be-forgotten academic studies. Coupled with the aforementioned extra-curriculars, however, the latter became a pleasant task rather than a bore.

Students of this school are relieved to put all their weight behind making this year one of the best in the history of the unit.

BISSELL GROUPS MAKE THE MOST OF COLD WEATHER

Making the most of the current chilly weather, the Bissell Recreation Club has been busy organizing and taking part in outdoor sports.

A skating party and snow bike were held this week, both of which proved enjoyable and full of excitement.

At the home of one of the club members, a party was staged on New Year's eve, when treats were made to the New Year. The club was happy at that time in celebrating past victories as Thelma Buckles, Joan Chandler, Dorothy Chandler, Eva Sato, Roy Wadsworth, and Jean Berdian. Dancing and singing made up most of the evening's program while refreshments, ably served by Myrtle Hoad and Rose Nakamura helped out in 1941.

XMAS TREE FOR SMALL BIRDS IS LATEST GIFT

Young People Provide Birds With Crumbs Christmas Day

From a young people's page in one of the Calgary newspapers comes word of something new in the way of Christmas activities, and although it may be a little late, we're passing the idea on to Edmonton young folk.

It seems that the mother of a small family referred to started the whole thing. She used to encourage her children to take crumbs out to the back yard for birds, after every meal. Then she started to give them all the stale bread cut into tiny cubes and a stale.

She kind of bird got into the habit of visiting the little sanctuary in the back yard, much to the pleasure of the children, who soon started to take an active interest in birds. Their father brought them home a bird book one day and they were studying it industriously, with the happy result that the birds soon possessed an amazing stock of knowledge about the wild life of their community.

TREE FOR BIRDS

Then finally, when on Christmas Eve the father thought home a big tree, the children decided that a tree for the birds would be an excellent idea. So another tree was obtained, and decorated with pine and spruce and hung with pieces of bread and suet. Bird seed was scattered about the base of the tree.

So everyone had a merry Yuletide, and it's quite possible that even the feathered friends shared each other many a fond "Merry Christmas" Greeting.

As in all the other high schools in the city, Western students Friday morning eagerly put their shoulders to the grindstone of schoolwork and studies after a blissful day of vacation.

Staring apparently took up a great part of the holidays of the majority of students. Both experts at Charlie Field and Clarence Hadden, and found themselves present in the realm of instruction.

Continuing its line of fun and entertainment, Western this year is going all out to publish one of the best school papers in its history. The school paper is in its history. The school paper is in its history.

Unhappy to be published in December, the "Parade" will be in the news early in January.

Bombing Planes Follow Greek Air Force

The heart of Greece stepped out for them in the 1933 Greek airplane stamp above, but the planes carried 400 B.C. The stamp also provides philatelist with a map of the Aegean in the sea.

Although Greece was strategically important in the axis of an ancient Britain, Greece was a chance to re-establish the empire of 148 B.C. when Roman civilization moved west the Greek peninsula.

It is not new for Albania, Greece, and Greece on the Aegean. The Persians burned the city of 400 B.C. The stamp also provides philatelist with a map of the Aegean in the sea.

Looking Over Winding Up Whoopee Week

It is with a mighty sigh of relief that the above was written. If there is one thing I am firmly opposed to, it is late holidays popping up in the middle of a work week. Holidays should always come like people in pairs. Of course three and four would be much better, but then a guy can't expect too much.

The work just ending brought very little in the way of sport development. Major event was the announcement yesterday by Dr. W. G. Hardy at the Port Arthur meeting of the C.A.H.A. that when the war is over world hockey championships will be staged in Canada and not in Europe as has been the custom in the past.

One of the all-time things in sportsworld was that old debate of a Canadian team having to go to Europe in search of the world championship in a game whose home is Canada. It was another of those hangovers that the Olympics imposed on sport. The war has ended this and the International Ice Hockey Association, headed by Dr. Hardy of Edmonton, is now the world governing body for its hockey.

Hardy's announcement that world hockey championships are being planned may supply the answer to a problem that is gradually developing right here in Alberta.

There is no longer much doubt but what the Alberta Senior League will soon need a new city for one of its four clubs. Turner Valley Oilers are that outfit. The whole idea of the Oilers from start to finish was a bit queer. However they were serving a purpose and if they hadn't been in existence it is doubtful if the Alberta League would have amounted to much this season. Without a home city of their own, without ice of their own and dependent on what support they could get in Calgary and Lethbridge, the Oilers were doomed from the start to be a problem. Their situation is reported very grave at present.

Two Possible Homes

The Oilers finally decide to quit their previous position. There are only two cities where their franchise might be placed. One is the Medicine Hat—it is a city that is artificial. The other is Great Falls, Montana.

Great Falls has artificial ice though rather small and it certainly has a lot to give the Alberta Senior League. One of the chief obstacles has been that should the Great Falls enter into the Alberta League race, it could not go in the Canadian playoffs since it is a U.S. city. This would leave little for the boys to shoot for.

However with world championships being envisaged as regular annual fixtures after the war, the U.S. will be the stage for the playoffs of its own in order to get a team to seek the world title. Such American playdown would provide just what Great Falls wants. The Falls team could play in the Alberta League until playoff time and then swing into the U.S. title quest.

De-Emphasis Movement Spreading

ONE of the most significant developments of 1940—at least as it seems from the distance—is the steady growth of the movement to de-emphasize sport in U.S. colleges. University of Chicago started it a year ago and school after school is following this lead.

From football, the idea is spreading to other collegiate sports. Now that most institutions have built big athletic plants from the proceeds of high-powered sport, the colleges seem to feel that they can at last relax and get sport back to their proper place as a mere side-light of college life and not the chief reason for an institution's existence.

On the other hand, college sport in Canada, particularly the west, hasn't had enough emphasis placed on it in the past.

World Hockey Championships Promised Canada After War

PORT ARTHUR, Jan. 4.—(CP)—Dr. W. G. Hardy, of Edmonton, Friday, told the semi-annual convention of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association that plans are under consideration for staging world hockey championships in Canada after the war.

News from the Health and Recreation Council

By EIGIL HORNEN

MAY we extend to all our readers the very best wishes for a happy and successful New Year. The classes in health and recreation will start next week and we are all looking forward to meeting the old friends and see how much change has been done by Christmas weeks to the muscular system.

Many of you trainers will think that the instructors have had a hard time, but that was not the case. On December 12, the annual conference of all instructors of the Red Cross took place at the 114 Street Centre. This was a meeting that is enjoyed by all, giving an opportunity to say hello to the leaders. From this meeting, change ideas and exercises and the news is always of interest to all of us.

The day began with Supervisor Rutledge giving us three hours of fundamental, mat tumbling, boxing and springboard. Next was a very good and very much enjoyed. The ladies received their instruction from the Pioneering Society. Mr. S. Sanderson, supervisor of women's activities.

At noon a very delightful lunch was served by the young ladies from the City Training Centre. Miss Lepley was in charge of arrangements and everything went off so well that we had plenty to eat. Mr. W. C. Foster, the supervisor of the boys' school, was also present.

Salvation Army Officer Does Expert Amateur Photography

Although carrying on extensive Salvation Army work, Maj. Harry A. Hurd, of Saskatoon, public relations representative of the Salvation Army and also secretary of the Army's war campaign, still finds time to do a spot of amateur photography.

A visitor to the city this week, Maj. Hurd presented an excellent "shot" of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth to His Honor Lord Gov. John C. Bowen.

Kennedy interested in the visit to Canada of the King and Queen in 1929 Maj. Hurd received a special permit from the lieutenant-governor of Newfoundland to obtain a photograph of the Royal Couple. One picture which he managed to get has earned him a great deal of recognition in the Dominion.

The picture presented to show the Queen waving farewell to a number of veterans of the First Great War after a review.

Enclosed Maj. Hurd has extra copies of the snapshot and sent one each to Queen Mary, Queen Elizabeth, Princess Elizabeth, Princess Margaret and to Lord R. B. Bennett. One of his proudest possessions is a copy of this photograph, signed by Queen Elizabeth.

A letter from the Royal Household received by the army officer, reads in part: "The King and Queen are pleased to accept these photographs. They will be placed in your album in recognition of your efforts in making them."

Another member of the Hurd family is the well-known, Alex Hurd, a Canadian Olympic team of rowers that took leave on Lake Placid in 1932. Alex has also taken in Norway and holds the distinction of breaking the record in the 1000 metre event at Lake Placid some years ago. He is also a member of the Hurd family.

MAJ. HARRY HURD, of Saskatoon, has many relations representing the Salvation Army, who has won considerable recognition for a photograph which he took of Her Majesty the Queen during the Royal Visit to St. John's, Nfld.

Now a professional speaker, his name, Professor, likewise exists in speedwriting.

Volunteering in the Canadian Forces, Maj. Hurd was assigned to the 4th Canadian Division, and was later promoted to the rank of Major. He is now a member of the Dominion Headquarters.

Maj. Hurd claims to have travelled more than a million miles in the last 40 years with the Salvation Army. In his spare time, he is a part of the army as well as travelling around the world.

TODAY'S MESSAGE TO BE SUBJECT CHURCH SERMON

By the Rev. J. MacBeath Miller, M.A., B.D. Minister of First Presbyterian Church

The Objective of the Gospel

Colossians 1:28—"The truth that Christ is in you, the hope of glory (the light of life) to be brought every one into God's presence as a full-grown man in Christ."

THE Christian Church has continually to be reminded that each generation must be brought afresh to allegiance to Christ. We are given the opportunity with which children in the Sunday School but we imagine that they are little Christians and need only a little instruction. We have not set ourselves to bring them spiritually and morally up in the way of the cross.

Life falls roughly into four periods of development, physical, mental, moral and spiritual. Jesus Christ is the complete man because he was mature in each stage. He called this "wholeness" and wanted it for every man. The New Testament has called it "holiness" and it is the objective of the Gospel for all people.

Saul, for instance, was the best that the Hebrew way of life could produce yet he was not a fully-developed personality. He was arrogant, selfish, resentful, cruel, intellectually and racially prejudiced. The first step to the discipline of Christ was to bring him to maturity. Through the medium of a mature personality he was able to make his contribution to the service of his people.

There are two means by which we may become mature Christian personalities. The first is by continuing to hold Christ which involves a rigid discipline in New Testament principles of living. The other is by the means of grace (prayer, the word and the sacraments) which involves also a happy but unrelenting discipline.

It is a fact that we go to it by what we are by a process. The muscle of God's grace will awaken us to spiritual birth but it will be a process and a discipline that we will come to Christian maturity.

The new day for civilization can only come through new human personalities. There is a new day for civilization and it is the scientific study and spiritual culture that is required to produce these mature, Christian personalities.

YEAR'S MESSAGE TO BE SUBJECT CHURCH SERMON

"Beginning at Jerusalem," a message for the beginning of the year and for the present crisis in the world's life will be the subject of the sermon by the minister of McDougall on Sunday morning.

The evening sermon subject will be "Breathing through Broken Realities." This message will contrast the Gospel way with the current way of life and bring light and power to broken lives.

The Young People's Department will stage a religious drama "Mimi Lights the Candle" at the firehouse in the school room of the church following the evening service of worship.

Young people who reside at one of the city and who are strangers will find a happy holiday fellowship at the Sunday evening fireside.

CIRCULATION BY BIBLE SOCIETY AT HUGE TOTAL

The British and Foreign Bible Society was founded in 1804 with the simple purpose of circulating the Scriptures and the Scriptures only without note or comment. When the Bible Society was founded the Scriptures had been translated into 2 languages. Twenty years later the society circulated the "Bible" in 100 languages. The second hundred was reached in 1871, the third in 1880, the fourth in 1896, the fifth in 1917, the sixth in 1928, the seventh in 1938 and today it has reached 144 languages.

To this must be added other very many published translations and there are now in the Bible Society library specimens of the Scriptures in 1442 tongues.

The history of the circulation of the Scriptures by this society is equally remarkable. In the first four years of its existence the society circulated 800,000 books, after a quarter of a century the annual circulation was 480,000, after half a century the figure had risen to 1,387,000 and after a century it had reached 11,765,000 (1,765,000 Bibles, 1,765,000 New Testaments and 8,235,000 Portions). Thus, both in promoting the translation and circulating of the Scriptures, the Bible Society has a notable record.

CORVETTES ARE SUCCESSFUL IN NAVAL WARFARE

LONDON, Jan. 4.—(CP)—The British Broadcasting Corporation said Friday night that "successes have already been scored" by the new type of naval vessel known as Corvettes. The BBC did not give any source for the report.

Corvettes are being built "in large numbers" both in Britain and Canada to fight submarines and escort convoys, the BBC said. "They were designed to meet the need for small craft which could be built quickly and be as thoroughly seaworthy and faster than the trawlers."

Corvettes, which carry three or four and from 40 to 70 men, have "adequate armament" and use depth charges against submarines.

"Life on board a Corvette in the Atlantic during winter is far from comfortable," the BBC said. "One vessel recently picked up five lost fishermen, who were promptly rescued and remained so for the duration of the voyage."

THAT'S WHAT I SAID--PUT THE CHECKERBOARD AWAY! THIS LETTER FROM GRANDMA GIVES ME AN IDEA--YOU'RE BOTH GOING TO WRITE AND THANK HER FOR THE GIFTS SHE SENT YOU FOR CHRISTMAS!

AW!

GOSH, I DON'T GO FOR LETTER WRITING, SAY, MOM, WHAT DID GRANDMA GIMME, ANYWAY?

WHY SHE GAVE BOTH YOU AND LILLIAN SCARFS! YOU SURELY REMEMBER THAT!

WHAT A MEMORY YOU HAVE, SNIP! AND YOU'RE SO APPRECIATIVE! YOU'LL BE USING YOUR SCARF FOR A SHOE RAG--HA-HA!

I'M GETTING NO PLACE FAST!

THE CLEANER IS HERE, LILLIAN--RUN UP AND GET THOSE DRESSES!

I GOTTA GIVE LIL CREDIT--WISH I COULD KNOCK OUT A LETTER AS QUICK AS SHE DOES!

WELL, IT TOOK YOU LONG ENOUGH, BUT IT'S A VERY NICE LETTER--GRANDMA WILL APPRECIATE IT A LOT!

I'M GONNA MEET THE KIDS, SO I'LL MAIL IT RIGHT AWAY!

I GAVE TWO DRESSES TO THE CLEANER, AND HERE'S MY LETTER TO GRANDMA--WANT TO ADD ANYTHING TO IT?

OH, MAYBE A LINE OR TWO.

WHY, LILLIAN WILLET, YOU CAN JUST WRITE THIS LETTER OVER! I'D BE ASHAMED OF MYSELF, COPYING EXACTLY WHAT MY KID BROTHER WROTE!
